Are you looking for a comprehensive, in-depth enjoyable training from soil to plate?
For work or for play- Alone or with friends or family.

Along with great food, inspirational conversation and the sights, fragrances and sounds of farm life, Quillisascut Farm workshops give substance to dreams. Hands-on In the kitchen, in the milking parlor, in the cheese teaching room, in the soil, at the table.

Farm, Cook, Eat: Immerse yourself, you will experience the full richness of farm life, the “deliciousness” of preparing meals from freshly harvested produce and sharing inspired conversations around the table.

Quillisascut Farm has pioneered education in sustainable kitchen practice with a focus on delicious food and a healthy planet. Quillisascut is the place to go for your farm to table enjoyment and education.

“I learned more in the five day Farm Culinary 101 workshop than a full quarter at a prestigious culinary school.” --Chef comment on the Quillisascut Experience

Chef Instructor Kären Jurgensen shares with you a passion for methods that build bold flavors utilizing locally grown foods. Each farm to table workshop celebrates the bounty of foods fresh from the farm.

Farmers Rick and Lora Lea Misterly, known for farmstead cheese production, have built this farm from the ground up over the past 32 years. They welcome you to learn alongside them and experience living on the land.

This is your opportunity to experience more than the standard afternoon cooking or farming class.
Incredible value - Sign up today!

“For four days, we ate together, cooked together, milked goats, made cheese, harvested produce from the garden and berries from the wild. With few exceptions, everything we ate was produced right there on the farm. We talked, we gathered around the table, and shared stories.” --Chef Greg Atkinson
